

FAILURE OF WAGE SCALE CONFERENCE PLACED ON MINERS

Operator Says Miners Representatives are to Blame

SITUATION GROWING WORSE IN INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 20.—P. H. Penna, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' Association in a statement issued at Terre Haute tonight placed blame for the failure of the recent wage conference of miners and operators at Cleveland to reach an agreement on the Illinois coal miners' representatives.

Mr. Penna said:

"The alleged inequality of which the mine workers complain was that the men in and around the mines who were paid by the month or day had not been awarded by the bituminous coal commission any equal percentage of increase in their wages.

"The operators agreed to correct the inequality complained of amounting to 7.4 cents per day to 10 day men and monthly men, and it is my opinion a settlement on this basis was prevented by the fact that the Illinois' coal miners representatives knew that the Illinois coal operators were willing to pay more."

Indiana Situation Bad.

The strike situation in Indiana coal fields continues to grow worse, reports today indicating only a few of the larger shafts are in operation.

That the dwindling of coal production is hampering all lines of industry in the state is shown in statements issued by John W. McCord, vice-president of the Indiana Public Service Commission.

In a telegram to all Indiana congressmen he urged them to take immediate action to prevent "a calamity now threatening the people of the state."

In a statement later in the day he urged that public indignation meetings be called.

A more hopeful aspect is shown however, in reports from district headquarters of the United Mine Workers. William Rainey, vice-president of District No. 11, expressed the opinion that the end of the trouble would be reached in a few days.

A meeting to discuss scale matters has been called by the Indiana Bituminous Operators' Association for Monday night.

MOSCOW ONLY RUSSIAN CITY THAT IS NORMAL

Entire Country Con- tributes to Its Upkeep

MASS STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—Of all the cities the traveler sees in crossing Russia Moscow appears the nearest to normal with the whole country contributing to its upkeep; from as far east as Irkutsk shops have been stripped, while even the household goods of well-to-do individuals have been shipped to the soviet and the city house; also the war booty taken from Siberia.

One notes immediately the appearance of a large number of well dressed pedestrians. There also is an animated traffic of street cars, automobiles and carriages. Parks and gardens are well kept.

Only a few stores were open there being long block after block of dirty shop fronts, long used in the past for posters of Bolshevik propaganda, usually featuring likenesses of Lenin, Trotsky and Marx. Markets and bazaars are open, however, and it is possible to buy a great variety of food, including meat, white bread, fruits and sugar.

Chopping Wood for Winter

Moscow, like the entire country from Irkutsk to Petrograd, is in a frenzy of wood chopping in preparation for winter.

Forests in the vicinity of the city are being cut and light railways laid to them.

Without an attendant the correspondent could not leave the Bolshevik guest house. The officials continually probe visitors for their impressions. It is apparent that behind the curtain of appearances is the real Moscow. The well dressed persons appearing it said are soviet officers and commissars and their friends or favorites.

The automobiles are the property of the government.

The bazaars give a fairly genuine insight into the real life of Moscow.

Prices Preclude Purchases

except by speculators and by those earning more than three to five thousand rubles monthly.

Masses Struggle for Food

While the masses struggle to obtain a daily supply of food the extra rationed classes of government officials eat plentifully of white bread and meat at the Bolshevik guest house.

The problem of obtaining food has become a chief concern to the cities. Garden grown potatoes and cabbages are expected to make the populous centers partially independent of the country this winter.

SUFF LEADERS PREPARING TO CLINCH VICTORY

Attorney General Be- lieves Opposition Already Lost

WALKER CLAIMS HAS ENOUGH TO WIN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 20.—Suffrage leaders were preparing tonight to clinch their victory by closing tomorrow the last parliamentary loop hole thru which Tennessee's approval of the federal suffrage amendment might be rescinded. They were confident, after the adjournment of its house today without a vote on reconsideration, of their ability to sweep aside the last obstacle to formal certification of the action of the legislature to Secretary Colby at Washington.

Some parliamentarians, including Attorney General Thompson, contended that today's action was final. Others, including suffrage adherents, however, took an opposite view. When the house met, Speaker Walker was in a position to move for reconsideration. Under the house rules he could make that motion at any time in the next two days succeeding the note. Today was the second day.

Believes Question Settled.

Attorney General Thompson contended that Walker's failure to act today settled the question. Others, however, maintained that the motion, stood as a matter of record and unacted upon and that to remove all doubt it must be disposed of.

It was with this objection in view that the suffragists today by a vote of forty-nine to forty-seven defeated a motion of the opposition to adjourn till Monday afternoon and then forced adjournment only until 10 a. m., tomorrow.

Action on the Walker motion was planned as soon as the order of business would permit.

Mr. Walker last night declared he had enough votes pledged to force a reconsideration but his motion today for adjournment until Monday was taken as an indication he was uncertain of his position. The vote confirmed this supposition.

Walker, however, still had a chance to win, should he persuade at least two suffragists to desert their leaders.

Suffragists, however, did not fear a break in their ranks.

At Monday's wage conference the operators will grant the miners an increase of $1.50 a day, fifty cents less than the increase demanded, it was indicated. Discussion among the operators took a trend today toward the efficiency of day workers which, it was agreed has fallen off a granting of miners return to the old standard of productivity, and readjustment of piece work scales.

to Blame

SITUATION GROWING WORSE IN INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 20.—P. H. Mr. Penna said:

"The alleged inequality of which the mine workers complain was that the men in and around the mines who were paid by the month or day had not been awarded by the bituminous coal commission any equal percentage of increase in their wages."

"The operators agreed to correct the inequality complained of amounting to 7.14 cents per day to the day men and monthly men, and it is my opinion a settlement on this basis was prevented by the fact that the Illinois coal miners representatives knew that the Illinois coal operators were willing to pay more."

Indiana Situation Bad.

The strike situation in Indiana coal fields continues to grow worse, reports today indicating only a few of the larger shafts are in operation.

That the dwindling of coal production is hampering all lines of industry in the state is shown in statements issued by John W. McCord, vice-president of the Indiana Public Service Commission. In a telegram to all Indiana congressmen he urged them to take immediate action to prevent "a calamity now threatening the people of the state."

In a statement later in the day he urged that public indignation meetings be called.

MOSCOW ONLY RUSSIAN CITY THAT IS NORMAL

Entire Country Contributes to Its Upkeep

MASSES STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—Of all the cities the traveler sees in crossing Russia Moscow appears the nearest to normal with the whole country contributing to its upkeep; from as far east as Irkutsk shops have been stripped, while even the household goods of well-to-do individuals have been shipped to the soviet and the city house; also the war booty taken from Siberia.

One notes immediately the appearance of a large number of well dressed pedestrians. There also is an animated traffic of street cars, automobiles and carriages. Parks and gardens are well kept.

Only a few stores were open there being long black used block of dirty shop fronts, long used in the past for posters of Bolshevik propaganda, usually featuring likenesses of Lenin, Trotsky and Marx. Markets and bazaars are open, however, and it is possible to buy a great variety of food, including meat, white bread, fruits and sugar.

Chopping Wood for Winter

Moscow, like the entire country from Irkutsk to Petrograd, is in a frenzy of wood chopping in preparation for winter.

Forests in the vicinity of the city are being cut and light railways laid to them.

Without an attendant the correspondent could not leave the Bolshevik guest house. The officials continually probe visitors for their impressions. It is apparent that behind the curtain of appearances is the real Moscow. The well dressed persons appearing it said are soviet officers and commissars and their friends or favorites.

The automobiles are the property of the government.

The bazaars give a fairly genuine insight into the real life of Moscow.

Masses Struggle for Food

While the masses struggle to obtain a daily supply of food the extra rationed classes of government officials eat plentifully of white bread and meat at the Bolshevik guest house.

The problem of obtaining food has become a chief concern to the cities. Garden grown potatoes and cabbages are expected to make the populous centers partially independent of the country this winter.

UNCLE JOE CANNON TALKS ON SUFFRAGE

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 20.—Commenting upon the ratification of the suffrage amendment and the local rush of women voters to be registered for the September primary, former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon tonight said:

"I do not believe that woman suffrage will materially change the relative strength of the dominant political parties. The women of Illinois voted for president in 1916, and as a rule they voted as intelligently as did their husbands, brothers or fathers. The most significant thing about that election was that the Socialists did not make any considerable gain from the woman vote."

SUFF LEADERS PREPARING TO CLINCH VICTORY

Attorney General Believes Opposition
Already Lost

WALKER CLAIMS HAS ENOUGH TO WIN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 20.—Suffrage leaders were preparing tonight to clinch their victory by closing tomorrow the last parliamentary loop hole thru which Tennessee's approval of the federal suffrage amendment might be rescinded. They were confident, after the adjournment of its house today without a vote on reconsideration, of their ability to sweep aside the last obstacle to formal certification of the action of the legislature to Secretary Colby at Washington.

Some parliamentarians, including Attorney General Thompson, contended that today's action was final. Others including suffrage adherents, however, took an opposite view. When the house met, Speaker Walker was in a position to move for reconsideration. Under the house rules he could make that motion at any time in the next two days succeeding the note. Today was the second day.

Attorney General Thompson contended that Walker's failure to act today settled the question. Others, however, maintained that the motion, stood as a matter of record and unacted upon and that to remove all doubt it must be disposed of.

It was with this objection in view that the suffragists today by a vote of forty-nine to forty-seven defeated a motion of the opposition to adjourn till Monday afternoon and then forced adjournment only until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Action on the Walker motion was planned as soon as the order of business would permit.

Mr. Walker last night declared he had enough votes pledged to force a reconsideration but his motion today for adjournment until Monday was taken as an indication he was uncertain of his position. The vote confirmed this supposition.

Walker, however, still had a chance to win, should he persuade at least two suffragists to desert their leaders.

Suffragists, however, did not fear a break in their ranks.

SOMEBODY IS ALWAYS TAKING JOY OUT OF LIFE

Federal Officer Says Sugar
Will Not Drop Until January

HOWEVER, IT IS STILL GOING DOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Retail sugar prices will not drop before January 1, and they may increase, John B. Floyd, special agent of the department of justice "flying squadron" of profiteer hunters, announced today after a conference with officials of three large refining companies and representatives of wholesale grocers.

The conference was held at the request of the grocers, who, holding large future contracts, had taken notice of rumors that the sugar market was due for a severe drop.

The possibility of a greater sugar shortage than last year also was indicated by Mr. Floyd, who said refiners told him not to produce more than 200,000 tons of raw product was now available in Cuba. The monthly supply of sugar in the United States is approximately 350 tons, Mr. Floyd said.

Millennium Has Arrived

TO OFFER INCREASES
OF $1.50 PER DAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The informal conference of Illinois coal operators today resulted in the general expression that while the state mine workers will receive a substantial wage increase, there will be no immediate increase in the price of coal.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners will be asked to draw up a statement regarding the determination of the operators to break away from the central competitive district in making agreements with the miners union. It was decided.

At Monday's wage conference the operators will grant the miners an increase of $1.50 a day, fifty cents less than the increase demanded, it was indicated. Discussion among the operators took a trend today toward the efficiency of day workers which, it was agreed has fallen off a granting of the wage increase demanded if miners return to the old standard of productivity, and readjustment of piece work scales.

SENATOR KENYON AND THE PRESENT SITUATION

Senator W. S. Kenyon, who came to Jacksonville yesterday to address the chautauqua assembly, is filling only two such engagements in Illinois. The senator has been prominent in the political life of the nation for some years past. He is a progressive, but has fought for progressivism within his party, believing that the best results would be achieved by remaining regular.

Down in Washington he has for years been one of the chief assistants of "old guard" methods. His independence is quite well illustrated by the fact that in the pre-convention days he was for Senator Johnson while the delegates from his own state were for Governor Lowden.

The fact is, Senator Kenyon doesn't pay a great deal of attention to the politicians of his state but goes directly to the people. That he is strong with these people was given proof two years ago when he was re-elected to the senate without opposition from either party. The senator today is chairman of the committee on labor and education, and is a member of the appropriations committee and the agriculture committee, all of which are engaged in important work.

In Chicago Monday he will meet with the senate committee which was appointed to investigate campaign expenditures. The work of this committee did not end with the national convention as the members were instructed by the action of the senate to investigate senatorial elections.

Possibly the most important work in which Senator Kenyon is now engaged is in connection with the reconstruction committee of the senate which has recently been in session in New York city. This committee is dealing with the housing question and with other matters which have their relationship to Americanization.

In England today there are eighty committees working out the very problems which the American committee has been considering. This may be taken as proof that there is a greater understanding abroad at this time of the seriousness of the reconstruction work. And it is also true that the task is larger in England than in the United States.

In a conversation last night Senator Kenyon talked in an interesting vein of public affairs and voiced his belief in a great Republican victory at the November election.

"I have been in Maine, Missouri and several other states recently and find unmistakable Republican sentiment. At the time of Senator Harding's nomination there was disappointment in some quarters, but the candidate has grown upon the people as they have become familiar with his record and have read his speeches. The progressives within the party are strongly for him and Senators Johnson and Borah will engage actively in the campaign for him. I will work mainly in the east until October and talk some in the west."

"Americanism was a passion with Theodore Roosevelt. He was against the internationalism that the Democratic vice presidential candidate espouses, and the proof of this statement can readily be read from the great American's own pen. The real Roosevelt still lives, and his voice is still heard for America."

"The league of nations has been pushed to the forefront by the Democrats as the paramount issue, but I believe as the campaign progresses that less and less will be said about it. Republicans, however, are well satisfied to take the league as the issue for they believe that the American people are opposed to turning over the affairs of this nation to a council of nine, seven members of which do not speak the English language. Republicans believe that it should not be left to the decision of this super government overseas as to how America should manage its affairs at home, or to what extent this nation should participate in world affairs.

"While some other issues will be pushed by the Democrats as the campaign progresses, I believe that they will do their utmost to spread the sophistry that the league of nations as advocated by Mr. Wilson would put an end to all war. They hope to spread the talk of 'peace, ever-lasting peace,' especially among the women voters. In other words, they are hoping to use with effect some of the same arguments that were used for Mr. Wilson four years ago."

"I make it my business as I go about from state to state, as I travel on the trains to talk to the people and to get their viewpoint. Without political bias I can say that aside from all special arguments, without discussing the league of nations, the tariff, or any one special principle or program, I find the great sentiment in favor of a change."

"The people want to have done with the Democratic administration. They realize that Mr. Wilson went abroad following a great, but impracticable ideal. They want the government to get down to business here at home. They want to quit this thing of trying to reform or shape the world and to give earnest attention to the big problems of our own."

"Mr. Wilson is an idealist and a dreamer. He has had no practical experience. He doesn't know what it means to meet a payroll in the ordinary operation of a business. This statement sums up what I mean. The people want a real business administration, a 'for America program,' and they are going to vote that way unless democracy finds some method of befogging the issue and thus making the voters forget the real facts."

Rippling Rhymes By Wait Mason

Overworked Words.
"Metaphors!" That weary word pops up before me everywhere; the blamed thing may have been a bird before they wore it all their days. Galsworthy sprung it years ago, and it was worthy of his gall, and it's been chivied to and from till it requires the bier and pall. It flavors everything I read, it's plastered up with printer's ink, it's down at heel and gone to seed, and it would drive strong men here to drink. And "Grueling" should take its place upon the list of deadly crimes; whenever there's an auto race we see it used a thousand times. When fathoms battle in the ring, what time they should be plowing corn, the scrap's described as "gruelling," regardless of the purists' scorn. And how I hate the "gripping" tales that figure in cheap magazines, turned out in large and endless bales by sweating backs for pork and beans. "Compelling" is another word that nearly breaks my grand old heart, used in connections most absurd—"compelling" songs, "compelling" art. I meet the "chestnuts" every hour, and into tears I often burst; and of all words that make life sour, "metaphors!" I hate the worst.

THOUSANDS IN ATTENDANCE AT CHAPMAN FUNERAL

Speaker and Graney Collapse and Could Not Attend

NO OFFICIAL ACTION WILL BE TAKEN

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 20.—Raymond Chapman, star player of the Cleveland American League Club and idol of local fans today received the reverential homage of sorrowing Cleveland.

While the bells of St. John's Roman Catholic Cathedral, where the services were held, were tolling, thousands of persons stood with bare heads as the body was carried to the altar and the last rites were said. It was the largest funeral in Cleveland in years and not since the visit of Cardinal Mercier, hero of Belgium, have so many people attempted to enter the cathedral. Tears were in the eyes of men, women and children in the throng, which was so dense that mounted police and patrolmen strove almost in vain to keep streets open to traffic.

Sermon by Rev. Father Scullen.

The service, a solemn high requiem mass started at 10:15 a. m. Rev. Father S. Nass was the celebrant and the sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. William A. Scullen, chancellor of the diocese who paid Chapman an eloquent tribute.

Chapman's widow, a bride of ten months entered leaning on the arm of her father. The casket was borne by Chapman's closest friends on the team and in Cleveland. The ball player's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chapman, his brother, Roy, and sister Margaret, followed.

B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland team and several other club officials and players were present including three from the New York Americans.

The members of the Cleveland team arrived from New York this morning. Manager Tris Speaker and Outfielder Jack Graney collapsed and could not attend the services. Speaker had a high fever tonight and did not go east with the team.

All Classes Represented.

All classes and walks of life were represented in the crowded church. Bankers and brokers rubbed elbows with laborers and newsboys. Every foot of space in the church was occupied including the sanctuary and communion rail. At the conclusion of the service the body was placed in a vault. It has not been decided when Chapman will be buried.

The crowd gathered about the cathedral at the end of the services was even larger than the one when the funeral party arrived. Street cars were halted for several blocks and traffic was completely tied up.

Will Take No Official Action.

No official action antagonistic to Carl Mays, the New York American League player, who pitched the ball Monday which resulted in Ray Chapman's death will be taken by President B. B. Johnson of the American League. The case is ended as far as he is concerned, Johnson declared here today.

"I could not conscientiously attempt to make any trouble for Mr. Mays," he said. "But it is my honest belief that Mr. Mays never will pitch again. From what I have learned he is greatly affected and may never be capable of tempering himself of pitching again. Then I also know the feeling against him to be so bitter among the members of other teams that it would be inadvisable for him to attempt to pitch this year at any rate."

Before leaving President Johnson made arrangements to have a complete stenographic report of the sermon preached by Rev. Dr. W. A. Scullen at Chapman's funeral sent to him.

"I want to have it printed and spread broadcast wherever baseball is played," he said. "It was the greatest oration I ever heard and every baseball fan and player should be given the chance to read it."

ROTARY CLUB MET AT NICHOLS PARK

Informal Program Given at Dining Hall — Directors in Brief Session.

The Rotary club held their weekly meeting yesterday noon in the dining room at Nichols park, the ladies of the Christian church serving the meal in cafeteria style.

Following the meal Rev. M. L. Pontus, president of the club, called for order and put the question of the next meeting. It was decided to hold the meeting next Friday at noon. It had been expected that Senator Kenyon would address the club but he did not arrive in time.

Dr. Howard Brown, formerly of Jacksonville, was introduced and made a short talk on the work which the Rockefeller Institute is doing and gave as an example, the work of isolating the germ which causes the "black face" disease which kills thousands of young turkeys every year.

The institute has been working for the past fifteen years on this problem and it is only in the last few months that the cause and remedy have been found. Few commercial concerns could or would do work of this kind for it is working for an objective far in the future and so is left to such bodies as the institute. It is work which eventually will result in vast saving to the public. Dr. Brown was the guest of James Guyette of this city.

Dr. R. A. Gregory and Dr. F. P. Norbury also were guests of the club.

The president then introduced A. P. Cobb, platform manager of the chautauqua, and he spoke briefly, telling of his pleasure of being here in Jacksonville.

The directors of the club held a meeting following the program.

JAIL DELIVERY PLANS FRUSTRATED

Eddie McCollister Saving His Way to Freedom When Sheriff Weatherford Heard—Rope All Ready for the Descent.

There are just two prisoners in the county jail and it was only because Sheriff Weatherford heard the ominous sound of a hack saw striking an iron bar that these two, Eddie McCollister and Lloyd Evans are still in confinement. It all happened this way.

Last night when Sheriff Weatherford returned to the jail from an up town visit Mrs. Weatherford reported to him that she thought she had heard the prisoners moving about in the cells above during his absence. The sheriff made a trip up stairs and found everything seemed all right. Then he went to bed but with one ear open. It wasn't long afterward that there were sounds on the floor above. The sheriff called Deputy Wright who also lives at the jail. The outside lights were turned on and at the same moment the officers entered the cell room.

McCollister and Evans heard them coming but couldn't conceal the six saws or the rope made from torn blankets ready to aid in an expected descent to the ground. They also had a smaller rope made from clothing which had evidently been lowered from the window to someone waiting with the needed saws. As the lights went on Mrs. Weatherford could hear someone running from the passageway back of the jail.

These events brought forcibly to mind the visit during the day of a man claiming to be a deputy sheriff from Chicago who called at the jail and asked to see McCollister. Mrs. Weatherford told him that she had positive instructions to permit no one to see the prisoner. However, she consented to call her husband by phone and later the sheriff went to the jail and permitted the visitor to talk to McCollister for a few moments in his presence. Up to that time only the prisoners' wife and mother had been allowed to see him.

Now McCollister is in a cell room in the old part of the jail, lighted only by a grating door. Sheriff Weatherford probably cannot keep him in such place but intends to exercise such vigilance as will make it certain that this elusive prisoner appears for trial later on. It will take some watching on the sheriff's part for McCollister isn't anxious to face that hearing and he seemingly has friends on the outside who are willing to help him in escape plans.

SENATOR KENYON AND THE PRESENT SITUATION

Senator W. S. Kenyon, who came to Jacksonville yesterday to address the chautauqua assembly, is filling only two such engagements in Illinois. The senator has been prominent in the political life of the nation for some years past. He is a progressive, but has fought for progressivism within his party, believing that the best results would be achieved by remaining "regular."

Down in Washington he has for years been one of the chief assailants of "old guard" methods. His independence is quite well illustrated by the fact that in the pre-convention days he was for Senator Johnson while the delegates from his own state were for Governor Lowden.

The fact is, Senator Kenyon doesn't pay a great deal of attention to the politicians of his state but goes directly to the people. That he is strong with these same people was given proof two years ago when he was re-elected to the senate without opposition from either party. The senator today is chairman of the committee on labor and education, and is a member of the appropriations committee and the agriculture committee, all of which are engaged in important work.

In Chicago Monday he will meet with the senate committee which was appointed to investigate campaign expenditures. The work of this committee did not end with the national convention as the members were instructed by the action of the senate to investigate senatorial elections.

Possibly the most important work in which Senator Kenyon is now engaged is in connection with the reconstruction committee of the senate which has recently been in session in New York city. This committee is dealing with the housing question and with other matters which have their relationship to Americanization.

In England today there are eighty committees working out the very problems which the one American committee has been considering. This may be taken as proof that there is a greater understanding abroad at this time of the seriousness of the reconstruction work. And it is also true that the task is larger in England than in the United States.

In a conversation last night Senator Kenyon talked in an interesting vein of public affairs and voiced his belief in a great Republican victory at the November election.

"I have been in Maine, Missouri and several other states recently and find unmistakable Republican sentiment. At the time of Senator Harding's nomination there was disappointment in some quarters, but the candidate has grown upon the people as they have become familiar with his record and have read his speeches. The progressives within the party are strongly for him and Senators Johnson and Borah will engage actively in the campaign for him, will work mainly in the east until October and talk some in the west."

"Americanism was a passion with Theodore Roosevelt. He was against the internationalism that the Democratic vice presidential candidate espouses, and the proof of this statement can readily be had from the great American's own pen. The real Roosevelt still lives, and his voice is still heard for America."

"The league of nations has been pushed to the forefront by the Democrats as the paramount issue, but I believe as the campaign progresses that less and less will be said about it. Republicans, however, are well satisfied to take the league as the issue for they believe that the American people are opposed to turning over the affairs of this nation to a council of nine, seven members of which do not speak the English language. Republicans believe that it should not be left to the decision of this super government overseas as to how America should manage its affairs at home, or to what extent this

"While some other issues will be pushed by the Democrats as the campaign progresses, I believe that they will do their utmost to spread the sophistry that the league of nations was advocated by Mr. Wilson would put an end to all war. They hope to spread the talk of 'peace, everlasting peace,' especially among the women voters. In other words, they are hoping to use with effect some of the same arguments that were used for Mr. Wilson four years ago.

"I make it my business as I go about from state to state, as I travel on the trains to talk to the people and to get their viewpoint. Without political bias I can say that aside from all peace arguments, without discussing the league of nations, the tariff, or any one special principle or program, if the people want to have done with the Democratic administration. They realize that Mr. Wilson went abroad following a great, but impracticable ideal. They want the government to get down to business here at home. They want to quit this thing of trying to reform or shape the world and to give earnest attention to the big problems of our own."

"Mr. Wilson is an idealist and a dreamer. He has had no practical experience. He doesn't know what it means to meet a payroll in the ordinary operation of a business. This statement sums up what I mean. The people want a real business administration, a 'for America program,' and they are going to vote that way unless Democracy finds some method of befogging the issue and thus making the voters forget the real facts."

Rippling Rhymes
By Wait Mason

Overworked Words.

"Metliculous!" That weary word pops up before me everywhere; the blamed thing may have been a bird before they wore it all the while. Galsworthy sprung it years ago, and it was worthy of his gall, and it's been chivalry to and from till it requires the bier and pall. It flavors everything I read, it's plastered up with printer's ink, it's down at heel and gone to seed, and it would drive strong men to drink. And "Grueling" should take its place upon the list of deadly crimes; whenever there's an auto race we see it used a thousand times. When fatheads battle in the ring, what time they should be plowing corn, the scrap's described as "gruelling," regardless of the purists' scorn. And how I hate the "gripping" tales that figure in cheap magazines, turned out in large and endless bales by sweating backs for pork and beans. "Compelling" is another word that nearly breaks my grand old heart, used in connections most absurd — "compelling" songs, "compelling" art. I meet the chestnuts every hour, and into tears I often burst; and of all words that make life sour, "metliculous" I hate the worst.

THOUSANDS IN ATTENDANCE AT CHAPMAN FUNERAL

Speaker and Graney Collapse and Could Not Attend

NO OFFICIAL ACTION WILL BE TAKEN

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 20.—Raymond Chapman, star player of the Cleveland American League Club and idol of local fans today received the reverential homage of sorrowing Cleveland.

While the bell of St. John's Roman Catholic Cathedral, where the services were held was tolling, thousands of persons stood with bare heads as the body was carried to the altar and the last rites were said. It was the largest funeral in Cleveland in years and not since the visit of Cardinal Mercier, hero of Belgium, have so many people attempted to enter the cathedral. Tears were in the eyes of men, women and children in the throng, which was so dense that mounted police and patrolmen strove almost in vain to keep streets open to traffic.

Sermon by Rev. Father Scullen.
The service, a solemn high requiem mass started at 10:15 a. m. Rev. Father S. Nass was the celebrant and the sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. William A. Scullen, chancellor of the diocese who paid Chapman an eloquent tribute.

Chapman's widow, a bride of ten months entered leaning on the arm of her father. The casket was borne by Chapman's closest friends on the team and in Cleveland. The ball player's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chapman, his brother, Roy, and sister Margaret, followed.

B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland team and several other club officials and players were present including three from the New York Americans.

The members of the Cleveland team arrived from New York this morning. Manager Tris Speaker and Outfielder Jack Graney collapsed and could not attend the services. Speaker had a high fever tonight and did not go east with the team.

All Classes Represented.
All classes and walks of life were represented in the crowded church. Bankers and brokers rubbed elbows with laborers and newsboys. Every foot of space in the church was occupied including the sanctuary and communion rail. At the conclusion of the service the body was placed in a vault. It has not been decided when Chapman will be buried.

The crowd gathered about the cathedral at the end of the services was even larger than the one when the funeral party arrived. Street cars were halted for several blocks and traffic was completely tied up.

No official action antagonistic to Carl Mays, New York American League player, who pitched the ball Monday which resulted in Ray Chapman's death will be taken by President B. B. Johnson of the American League. The case is ended as far as he is concerned, Johnson declared here today.

"I could not conscientiously attempt to make any trouble for Mr. Mays," he said. "But it is my honest belief that Mr. Mays never will pitch again. From what I have learned he is greatly affected and may never be capable temperamentally of pitching again. Then I also know the feeling against him to be so bitter among the members of other teams that it would be inadvisable for him to attempt to pitch this year at any rate."

Before leaving President Johnson made arrangements to have a complete stenographic report of the sermon preached by Rev. Dr. W. A. Scullen at Chapman's funeral sent to him.

"I want to have it printed and spread broadcast wherever baseball is played," he said. "It was the greatest oration I ever heard and every baseball fan and player should be given the chance to read it."

Ratliff-Steinmetz.
Miss Janet Steinmetz and Mr. D. N. Ratliff of Springfield, were united in marriage Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Father Mazur at St. Barbara's parsonage. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lederly. After a short wedding trip the young couple will reside at 122 East Washington street, Springfield.

JAIL DELIVERY PLANS FRUSTRATED

Eddie McCollister Sawing His Way to Freedom When Sheriff Weatherford Heard—Rope All Ready for the Descent.

There are just two prisoners in the county jail and it was only because Sheriff Weatherford heard the ominous sound of a hack saw striking an iron bar that these two, Eddie McCollister and Lloyd Evans are still in confinement. It all happened this way.

Last night when Sheriff Weatherford returned to the jail from an up town visit Mrs. Weatherford reported to him that she thought she had heard the prisoners moving about in the cells above during his absence. The sheriff made a trip upstairs and found everything seemed all right. Then he went to bed but with one ear open. It wasn't long afterward that there were sounds on the floor above. The sheriff called Deputy Wright who also lives at the jail. The outside lights were turned on and at the same moment the officers entered the cell room.

McCollister and Evans heard them coming but couldn't conceal the six saws or the rope made from iron bars ready to aid in an expected descent to the ground. They also had a smaller rope made from clothing which had evidently been lowered from the window to someone waiting with the needed saws. As the lights went on Mrs. Weatherford could hear someone running from the passageway back of the jail.

These events brought forcibly to mind the visit during the day of a man claiming to be a deputy sheriff from Chicago who called at the jail and asked to see McCollister. Mrs. Weatherford told him that she had positive instructions to permit no one to see the prisoner. However, he consented to call her husband by phone and later the sheriff went to the jail and permitted the visitor to talk to McCollister for a few moments in his presence. Up to that time only the prisoners' wife and mother had been allowed to see him.

Now McCollister is in a cell room in the old part of the jail, lighted only by a grated door. Sheriff Weatherford probably cannot keep him in such place but intends to exercise such vigilance as will make it certain that this elusive prisoner appears for trial later on. It will take some watching on the sheriff's part for McCollister isn't anxious to face that hearing, and he seemingly has friends on the outside who are willing to help him in escape plans.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled. Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best, as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

SHOCK ABSORBERS
FOR FALSE TEETH

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth" forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c at Druggists.—Adv.

Is Your Skin Ablaze
With Fiery Itchings?

Don't Continue to Suffer Because of Wrong Treatment

At last science has determined the real source of all skin diseases, and with this enlightenment comes the reason why the prevailing treatment heretofore used has proven such a complete failure. It has been proven that impurities in the blood cause millions of tiny disease germs to set up their attack on the surface of the skin, and in the form of pimples, boils, scaly eruptions and itchy, burning irritations, begin their disfiguring and destructive work.

Being in the blood, these disease germs can be reached only through the blood, and local applications have no effect whatever. That is why salves, ointments, lotions, washes and other remedies applied to the skin can do no more than give merely temporary relief. Soon the fiery itching breaks out again, for such treatment cannot reach the source of the trouble.

If you want genuine relief from the tortures of skin diseases, lose no time in discarding all local remedies and begin taking S. S. S. today and you will be delighted with the results.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcine at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and in the pint bottle with water that has been boiled. Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best; as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear. Mentholized Arcine is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

FOR FALSE TEETH

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application, but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth" forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c at Druggists.—Adv.

There is a Wonderful Motor Under the Hood of the New Velie Six

At last the problem of low grade fuel is really solved by the motor of the new Velie. Here is a motor that burns low grade fuel perfectly—and gives greater power—greater speed—more miles per gallon—with lessened vibration.

A motor running smoothly and solidly at all speeds; its unusually large crankshaft held firmly by four bearings. A motor with rods and pistons accurately balanced, and enduring bronze-backed bearings everywhere.

A motor worthy of this beautiful car—the first authoritative example of the new style tendency—with more room—the deepest, most restful upholstery—more comfort and convenience than you ever dreamed of.

Come and see the new Velie—today's perfection of automobile science and are. Ride in it as hundreds have done—and let us have YOUR judgment.

EDGAR AND HUTCHINSON WILL PLAY IN FINALS

Chicago, Aug. 20.—J. Douglas Edgar of Atlanta, Ga., and Jock Hutchinson of Chicago were the winners in the semi-final matches today in the Professional Golfers' association tournament and will meet tomorrow in the finals.

Edgar defeated George McLean of Great Neck, N. Y., 3 to 7 and Hutchinson won from Harry Hampton of Richmond, Va., 4 and 3.

Both winners in today's 63-hole play had an easy time. Edgar who holds the Canadian chamionship had a lead of four holes over McLean at the half way point. In the second round McLean never at any time had a chance. Hutchinson won five of the first nine holes and halved 2 against Hampton turning 3 up. He increased his lead another hole in the next nine, being four up at the end of the first round. On the last 18 holes, Hutchinson had no trouble holding his lead.

ELGIN ROAD RACES WILL BE RUN TODAY

Expect Record Breaking Speed Over the 8 1/4 Mile Track Which Was Reported in Excellent Condition Friday Evening.

ELGIN, ILL., Aug. 20.—With the American Automobile Racing championship as a possible prize for the winner, the Elgin National road race, is scheduled to be run over the 8 1/4 mile course here tomorrow afternoon under conditions which tonight are said by race followers to indicate record-breaking speed. Track conditions were excellent today.

Drawings for position today placed Ralph DePalma first with Jimmy Murphy second. Following in the order named came Eddie Hearne, Cliff Durant, Tom Milton, Eddie O'Donnell, Gaston Chevrolet, Percy Ford and Ralph Mulford.

W. H. Seymour of Elgin was ruled out tonight because his car was too large to get in the 183 cubic inch piston displacement class leaving nine starters. The race may develop into a three-cornered fight for the American racing title as it is the last event of the year to count. The winner gets 500 points and either Tommy Milton or Jimmy Murphy can pass DePalma in the rating by winning tomorrow. DePalma now has 1,015 points, Milton 670 and Murphy 665. The record for the course is 77.25 miles per hour made by Gil Anderson in 1915. Tommy Milton won last year with an average of 73.9.

PHILADELPHIA LOST TWO GAMES TO SOX

Chicago Takes First Game 7 to 4 and the Second Was Forfeited—Crowd Swarmed on the Field in the Ninth and Refused to Leave and Umpire Chill Forfeited the Game.

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—Chicago made it two out of three from Philadelphia by winning both games of today's double header. The score of the first was 7 to 4 and the second was forfeited.

With two out in the locals' half of the ninth inning of the second contest, the bleacher crowd swarmed on the field, thinking a foul grounder from Styles' bat had ended the game. The fans refused to leave the field and Umpire Chill declared the game forfeited to Chicago. The score at the time stood 5 to 2, in favor of the visitors. At the start of the fifth inning of the first game players, umpires and spectators stood with bared and bent heads for two minutes in memory of Ray Chapman.

WORLD'S RECORD FOR POLE VAULT BROKEN BY FOSS

American Wins the Event and Sets New Mark

FRENCH RUNNER
MEETS DEFEAT

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Phenomenal pole vaulting by F. K. Foss, Chicago A. A., which broke all records, and a brilliant distance race by four runners in which the French marvel, Guillemot, went down to defeat, furnished the thrills of the ten thousand spectators at the sixth day of the Olympic games today. The performance in view of the rain and cold, were exceptional.

The day was ending with a brilliant sunset but with November-like temperature, as Foss sailed over the bar at a height of 13 feet 5 1/2 inches. The old world record was 13 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

Foss already had won first place for the United States in the pole vault, but he was urged to go on and break the Olympic record. This he did and then after a consultation by the officials, the bar was set at the top height so that Foss might have a chance to excel the world's record. When the height was announced an absolute hush fell over the spectators.

World's Record Falls
Twice Foss essayed his task and failed. Then, after a long rest and with all the spectators tense, he took an exceptionally long run and terrific leap, sailed upward and curved his body over the bar like the letter "U" snapped the pole backward and dropped amid a great splash of sawdust into the pit on the other side.

The crowds in the stands yelled themselves hoarse, while Foss' teammates lifted him up on their shoulders and marched around the band playing. Flags everywhere were waving and photographers were scurrying here and there to obtain pictures.

There was scarcely less enthusiasm over the ten thousand metre run, which developed into a sensational full distance contest between Nurmi, of Finland; Guillemot, the Frenchman; Wilson of England, and Maccario of Italy, undoubtedly four of the greatest distance runners who had been brought together in years.

He also has been questioned by federal prohibition enforcers concerning his alleged admission that he purchased liquor at the club.

McGraw was quoted as saying his presence was essential as his team needed him "in this critical time in the race for the pennant."

ELGIN ROAD RACES WILL BE RUN TODAY

Expect Record Breaking Speed Over the 8 1/4 Mile Track Which Was Reported in Excellent Condition Friday Evening.

ELGIN, ILL., Aug. 20.—With the American Automobile Racing championship as a possible prize for the winner, the Elgin National road race, is scheduled to be run over the 8 1/4 mile course here tomorrow afternoon under conditions which tonight are said by race followers to indicate record-breaking speed. Track conditions were excellent tonight.

Drawings for position today placed Ralph DePalma first with Jimmy Murphy second. Following in the order named came Eddie Hearne, Cliff Durant, Tom Milton, Eddie O'Donnell, Gaston Chevrolet, Percy Ford and Ralph Mulford.

W. H. Seymour of Elgin was ruled out tonight because his car was too large to get in the 183 cubic inch piston displacement class leaving nine starters. The race may develop into a three-cornered fight for the American racing title as it is the last event of the year to count. The winner gets 500 points and either Tommy Milton or Jimmy Murphy can pass DePalma in the rating by winning tomorrow. DePalma now has 1,015 points, Milton 670 and Murphy 665. The record for the course is 77.23 miles per hour made by Gil Anderson in 1915. Tommy Milton won last year with an average of 73.9.

World's Record Falls
Twice Foss essayed his task and failed. Then, after a long rest and with all the spectators tense, he took an exceptionally long run and terrific leap, sailed upward and curved his body over the bar like the letter "U" snapped the pole backward and dropped amid a great splash of sawdust into the pit on the other side.

The crowds in the stands yelled themselves hoarse, while Foss' teammates lifted him up on their shoulders and marched around the hand playing. Flags everywhere were waving and photographers were scurrying here and there to obtain pictures.

There was scarcely less enthusiasm over the ten thousand metre run, which developed into a sensational full distance contest between Nurmi, of Finland; Guillemot, the Frenchman; Wilson of England, and Menario of Italy. Undoubtedly four of the greatest distance runners who had been brought together in years.

M'GRAW TO JOIN TEAM IN CHICAGO

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, who has been the central figure of two investigations here within the last two weeks, has gone to Chicago to take charge of his team. McGraw was questioned in connection with the inquiry as to how John G. Slavin, actor, received a fracture of the skull in front of McGraw's home after a fracas at the Lambs club. He also has been questioned by federal prohibition enforcers concerning his alleged admission that he purchased liquor at the club.

McGraw was quoted as saying his presence was essential as his team needed him "in this critical time in the race for the pennant."

HARDING'S NAME ON SLICE OF WATERMELON
Quincy, Ill., Aug. 20.—When Miss Margaret Bishop was handed a slice of watermelon at her home here today, she was attracted by the peculiar line of the white fibre in the red meat. On looking a second time, she saw that the name "Harding" was plainly spelled out. She took the piece of melon to the home of Rev. M. E. Fawcett, bishop of the Quincy diocese of the Episcopal church, who vouches for the truth of her story, as well as several others who saw the "speak which nature had played in writing the name of the Republican presidential candidate.

RAPID HARVESTING.

A well known gentleman who was in the city yesterday said he saw a fine combination of harvester and thrasher at work. The harvester was a fourteen foot
header drawn by a Rumley engine. Over the header was a gasoline engine which propelled
the thrasher and in addition a disc was drawn behind so that the land was reaped, grain
threshed and the field left ready for seeding again. The machine
would cut about forty acres a day
and the gentleman insisted it was economical in that very little grain failed to be secured. Of course the wheat would all have to be standing up straight for such a purpose and where this work was done the straw is not as long as it is in this country. It certainly was doing up the work in a rapid manner.

NINTH CHAUTAUQUA OPENS AT PARK

ON FIRST DAY

Senator Kenyon of Iowa Discussed
Present Day Problems — Mrs.
Helen Brown Read and Bohemian Orchestra Provided Musical
Features — Rains Interfered
Somewhat with Attendance.

It cannot be truthfully said that weather conditions are ideal for the opening of the ninth assembly
of the Jacksonville chautauqua.
Nevertheless, the attendance was surprisingly large Friday both for the afternoon and evening sessions.

Thomas Worthington, president of the board of directors of the chautauqua, called the assembly to order and expressed the pleasure that the directors had in presenting this year's excellent program of events. Without extended preliminary remarks he then introduced Dr. A. P. Cobb of Decatur, this year's platform manager. Dr. Cobb evidently believes that it is the function of a manager to keep the program moving
instead of making extended remarks himself. He adhered to this idea, with the result that the Bohemian orchestra soon gave the first number of a varied and excellent concert program.

Senator W. S. Kenyon was the speaker of the afternoon and his popularity with Morgan county
audiences was indicated by the close attention and the frequent applause.

Senator Kenyon talked about
some of the big questions that now face the American people and
of course gave his views on the "paramount issue"—the league of nations.

The Evening Program

The heavy rain which came at 6:30 interfered very materially
with the evening attendance.
However, an audience which filled
two-thirds of the seats in the big tent gathered to hear the great program that had been prepared.

Mrs. Helen Brown Read gave a concert program, her choice of selections giving fine opportunity for the display of her wonderful
voice. It was a varied program,
one in which the audience found
great pleasure, and there was encourage after each number. Mrs. Read has a personal graciousness which makes her singing the more effective and brings the audience
into close sympathy with her own musicalian spirit. Willard Wesner was Mrs. Read's accompanist and his ability aided in the success of the program.

The chairman then introduced
J. Smith Dameron who gave an interesting lecture together with a demonstration in clay modeling.
This was of especial interest to the young people in the audience and they gave Mr. Dameron their earnest attention from start to finish.

The Bohemian orchestra presented another concert program
and it was of such excellence as to add to the good opinion formed
of their ability in the afternoon.
The evening program concluded with a motion picture.

Senator Kenyon's Viewpoint
If one were summarizing the address of Senator Kenyon special stress would be laid upon his league of nations views. The senator favors a league of nations
that reserves the right to America to manage her affairs at home,
and makes her the judge as to what participation she should take
in the settlement of world affairs.

The senator believes that the man suffrage will bring better
political and governmental conditions. He believes in union labor and the right of collective bargaining, but is just as insistent
that the "open shop" is an American principle that must not be lost.

He called Theodore Roosevelt
the greatest American since Lincoln, and said that one of the chief concerns of the people today should be the Americanization of America instead of pursuing the phantom of endeavoring to Americanize all the world.

Senator Kenyon was introduced by the chairman to speak on some subject near his heart. The senator said that he was not a chautauqua speaker in common acceptance of that term and that
by no stretch of the imagination
could anyone dignify what he had to say by calling it a lecture. He said in part:

"Here and at Geneseo are my two only chautauqua engagements and you see that only in these two instances was I invited back. I am here to make just a neighborly sort of visit and to talk over in an informal way the questions in which we are both so much interested. It is a popular sport these days to lambaste the senate and everybody does it and with much success. I had heard the chaplain in the senate offer
a prayer one day and asked his father if the minister was praying for the senators. No, came the reply, he is offering up a petition that heaven may protect the country from the senate. That seems to be the popular view these days. But I am willing to stand here today and say that I have no apology to offer for what the U. S. senate has done or has done
in its more recent history.

"Gov. Cox has referred to the senate as an oligarchy, trying to dominate the affairs of this country. Certainly from my viewpoint
I were better to have an oligarchy here than one overseas directing the affairs of the American nation, a council of nine, of whom seven cannot speak the English language.

Women Won Suffrage

"Equal suffrage which has just come to women is not the gift
of any candidate or any party but
has come because women themselves showed the way and their fitness to cast the ballot and to share all the responsibilities of government. I believe that because of suffrage, that political conditions will be better and that there will be fewer party bosses.

Whoever heard of anybody boss-
ing a woman.

"Today there are world conditions that startle every thoughtful
man as the waves of bolshevism sweep the country. I rejoice that this country has refused recognition to soviet Russia. If Russia wants that type of government
it is all very well, but I am not in favor of sending American boys
over there to take part in their conflict. Adopting the Bolshe-vist government is their affair,
but when it comes to adopting one here that is our business. We will fight the idea to a finish here
at home and no one will have more of a part in that conflict
than the farmer.

"This reminds me that we have not paid enough attention to the farmer in the past, but he is coming into his own these days as we recognize that the big question
starting us in the face is that of three square meals a day. We need farmers in the land bank
management and in the control
of the lakes to the ocean canal
project for their interests are involved and many of them are capable business men. I am not a candidate for office and so cannot be accused of talking politics
in these references to the farmer.

"One of the great problems of
city life today is housing and figures show that there is a shortage of one million homes today, that is the right kind of sanitary houses.
Home owning is one of the best
cures for bolshevism and the quicker we recognize that fact the better it will be.

"We have had in these past few months demonstration of efforts
to buy the presidency of the United States and I believe the revelations made will be helpful to the country. I say in passing that personal blame does not attach to
Gov. Lowden in this state or too
General Wood. The mistakes
made were on the part of their friends who possibly turned back
history's pages and found the time
when Julius Caesar became the head of the Roman empire by the payment of two and a half million dollars.

Compliments for Bryan

"Prohibition has come to stay
and so long as men stand ready to fight for their convictions the saloon and its baleful influence
will never be known again in this country. All honor to W. J. Bryan who went to San Francisco and made a fight for principle. It means something to fight the liquor interest within the Democratic party. I want to say here in the earlier home of Bryan that I hold him in high regard. Once
I went to him with a question over which I was troubled and he said to me when I am bothered
over any question of the kind I pray about it. Then when the light comes I go ahead regardless of what may seem to be the consequences to myself. The country
needs such men.

"One of the greatest needs of the day is the application of individual thrift measures to governmental affairs. In congress in the past the man who captured
the most appropriations for his home district has had the greatest honors at home whether or not those appropriations were justified by the facts. The erection of public buildings not needed;
the development of waterways
that do not exist and projects of like character result because the home people give encouragement
to the congressmen or senators who make them possible. The free seed program belongs in the same class. Economy in governmental affairs at Washington demands attention. For months
past we have clerks, clerks,
clerks on every hand and that
same idea of getting a lot of people on the payroll has dominated every department.

Americanization At Home

"While today we are possessed
with the idea of Americanizing Europe the fact is that we should be the more concerned about Americanizing our own country.
In the steel inquiry it developed
that in one group of 150 strikers
there are 19,000 foreigners. Census figures show that there are eight and a half million people in the United States who cannot read or write English. Orders posted for employees of the steel corporation in some localities must be printed in twelve different languages. The day must come when we must have a common language
in this country so that there may be a greater solidarity of thought and a better understanding of the meaning of America. We have not taught all the people what America means and that is our duty.

"In Flanders field, the lads of all nationalities and creeds lie together because they fought in unison for an ideal. Why is it that we cannot get back some of that pre-war spirit of working together, that knowledge that our interests are mutual. No sooner was the war over than there came the coal strike and the threats of a coal strike and a railroad tieup
together with countless disturbances of a smaller kind among workers. Where is this strike business going to end. What if the farmers who produce the things we eat should go on a strike, then the public would really have something to concern itself about.

"Today one of our big problems
is to work out an industrial system which will give justice to the worker and to the public. I believe in unions and the right of collective bargaining but I am just as firm a believer in the open shop and the right of every man to work whether or not he belongs to a union.

The Wilson Administration

"My wife was a democrat and
my arguments failed during 25
years to make her a Republican.
Now she says that the Wilson administration has done the job. I love my party but far above it my country and on any occasion when I did not think my party right I have not voted with it. The great question of the day, the greatest since the Civil war is whether the American nation reserves to itself the right to control its own

politics or surrender that right to an overseas council of nine persons.

"Some people believe that President Wilson is always wrong
but I have in a great many ways
the highest regard for him. He is great in many ways and went abroad in pursuance of a high ideal for which he has nearly
given his life. The president,
however, assumed to do the thinking for the senate and there are people in Washington who were satisfied to go each morning to the White House steps and pray, 'Give us this day our daily thoughts.' I beg of you women who have just

The League Plan Dangers.

"I wanted to be for the league of nations. But a study of the plan proposed that it would make for wars instead of ending them. I could not support the plan which
made a super-government in Europe and placed in the hands of nine men the destinies of the world. Certain reservations were proposed by the senate, but President Wilson said the league plan
must go thru without a change.
Think of what Washington said
about entangling alliances and the warnings given by Lincoln and Roosevelt. Mr. Taft at the time
said the league plan was perfect
and today he has figured out 14
reservations he thinks would be beneficial.

"One provision of the league is that any nation can withdraw after two years if the obligations have not been met. But who is to determine that? Franklin Roosevelt is quoted as saying that President Wilson put it over on Lloyd George and that the U. S., really, has twelve votes to the six
of Great Britain. Could anything be further from the truth?
The whole league plan as proposed by President Wilson means that the council overseas can determine the affairs of nations there, and can direct our participation there in European affairs and also tell us how to manage our affairs here at home.
"It's a great ideal, this going
out to change all the world,
right all the wrongs of humanity,
but it can't be done, and I do not believe Americans are ready to surrender the management of their affairs here at home to a body of men sitting in council on the other side of the water. Many problems of the press for solution today
here at home and it is going to take our best efforts and wisdom
to settle them rightly."

Notes.

Although Mr. Rice is a criple
he stays all he can at headquarters and attends to business
all right.

The ladies are giving their usual excellent satisfaction with the dining pavilion.

We may thank the measles
for the presence of Mrs. Enri-Fox who would possibly have been in Cuba with her husband who has been stationed there by the house with which he is connected and Mrs. Fox couldn't get away so she and Mrs. Fox's Mr.
and Mrs. George R. Fox are with them on the grounds.

Miss Olive Dunlap finds the atmosphere here rather cooler than
it was in Charleston, South Carolina, though she greatly enjoyed her stay there. She also discovered that her great grandmother,
Mrs. Irvin Orear was of the famous French Huguenot stock and while Miss Dunlap doesn't put on any airs in consequence she nevertheless feels that she has illustrious blood in her veins.

The authorities managed to give T. B. Reeve his vacation
from the postoffice so that he could attend the chautauqua and it's safe to say that no one enjoys the affair more than he. He and his family enter fully into the spirit of the occasion taking in all that comes along. Mr. Reeve says when he lived in Milwaukee
he paid five dollars for a course
of five lectures no better than average of those on the program
here.

People will have to imagine
how the west side of the park
looks till after the chautauqua.
The condition of the driveways
will not admit of any autos going over them while they are soft and sticky. Of course people can walk over them and get a fine
view of the north side of the park from the hill south of the lake. The hydrangeas about the large pavilion make a lovely appearance and several flower beds
in the park are full of attractive blooms at present.

Much use has emptied the well
by the playground but the big tank of Gravel Springs water supplies needs.

A few automobiles have stuck
while crossing the drives in the grass but willing hands have helped get them across.

Crit Lair is glad the greater part of his work as foreman of the tent company was done before the rain. He worked well and faithfully and the canvas
attest the value of his efforts.

Miss Emma Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Dodsword and some others have a pleasant company in a tent toward the south end of the row.

Mrs. Leannah Hayden and little granddaughter will enjoy the tent life this season.
The writer missed his long time friend, Mrs. C. T. Daniel of Murrayville and hopes yet to see her before the chautauqua is over.
The dining pavilion is amply
supplied with melons of a fine
quality.
A. P. Cobb, the manager, will be heard today and his offerings will be hailed with delight for
he always has something worth

NINTH CHAUTAUQUA OPENS AT PARK

Senator Kenyon of Iowa Discussed
Present Day Problems — Mrs.
Helen Brown Read and Bohemian
Orchestra Provided Musical
Features — Rains Interfered
Somewhat with Attendance.

It cannot be truthfully said that weather conditions are ideal for the opening of the ninth assembly of the Jacksonville chautauqua. Nevertheless, the attendance was surprisingly large Friday both for the afternoon and evening sessions.

Thomas Worthington, president of the board of directors of the chautauqua, called the assembly to order and expressed the pleasure that the directors had in presenting this year's excellent program of events. Without extended preliminary remarks he then introduced Dr. A. P. Cobb of Decatur, this year's platform manager. Dr. Cobb evidently believes that it is the function of a manager to keep the program moving instead of making extended remarks himself. He adhered to this idea with the result that the Bohemian orchestra soon gave the first number of a varied and excellent concert program.

Senator W. S. Kenyon was the speaker of the afternoon and his popularity with Morgan county audiences was indicated by the close attention and the frequent applause.

Senator Kenyon talked about some of the big questions that now face the American people and of course gave his views on the "paramount issue"—the league of nations.

The Evening Program

The heavy rain which came at 6:30 interfered very materially with the evening attendance. However, an audience which filled two-thirds of the seats in the big tent gathered to hear the great program that had been prepared.

Mrs. Helen Brown Read gave a concert program, her choice of selections giving fine opportunity for the display of her wonderful voice. It was a varied program, one in which the audience found great pleasure, and there was encore after encore. Mrs. Read has a personal graciousness which makes her singing the more effective and brings the audience into close sympathy with her own musicianly spirit. Willard Wesner was Mrs. Read's accompanist and his ability aided in the success of the program.

The chairman then introduced J. Smith Dameron who gave an interesting lecture together with a demonstration in clay modeling. This was of especial interest to the young people in the audience and they gave Mr. Dameron their earnest attention from start to finish.

The Bohemian orchestra presented another concert program and it was of such excellence as to add to the good opinion formed of their ability in the afternoon. The full evening program concluded with a motion picture.

Senator Kenyon's Viewpoint

If one were summarizing the address of Senator Kenyon special stress would be laid upon his league of nations views. The senator favors a league of nations that reserves the right to America to manage her affairs at home, and makes her the judge as to what participation she should take in the settlement of world affairs. The senator believes that woman suffrage will bring better political and governmental conditions. He believes in union labor and the right of collective bargaining, but is just as insistent that the "open shop" is an American principle that must not be lost.

He called Theodore Roosevelt the greatest American since Lincoln, and said that one of the concerns of the people today should be the Americanization of America instead of pursuing the phantom of endeavoring to Americanize all the world.

Senator Kenyon was introduced by the chairman to speak on some subject near his heart. The senator said that he was not a chautauqua speaker in common acceptance of that term and that he no stretch of the imagination could anyone dignify what he had to say by calling it a lecture. He said in part:

"Here and at Geneseo are my two only chautauqua engagements and you see that only in these two instances was I invited back. I am here to make just a neighborly sort of visit and to talk over in an informal way the questions in which we are both so much interested. It is a popular surprise these days to lambaste the senate and everybody does it and with much success. I had heard the chaplain in the senate offer a prayer one day and asked his father if the minister was praying for the senators. No, came the reply, he is offering up a petition that heaven may protect the country from the senate. That seems to be the popular view these days. But I am willing to stand here today and say that I have no apology to offer for what the U. S. senate has been or has done in its more recent history."

"Gov. Cox has referred to the senate as an oligarchy, trying to dominate the affairs of this country. Certainly from my viewpoint I were better to have an oligarchy here than one overseas directing the affairs of the American nation, a council of nine, of whom seven cannot speak the English language."

Women Won Suffrage

"Equal suffrage which has just come to women is not the gift of any candidate or any party but has come because women themselves showed the way and their fitness to cast the ballot and to share all the responsibilities of government. I believe that because of suffrage, that political conditions will be better and that there will be fewer party bosses."

Whoever heard of anybody bossing a woman.

"Today there are world conditions that startle every thoughtful man as the waves of bolshevism sweep the country. I rejoice that this country has refused recognition to soviet Russia. If Russia wants that type of government it is at a very well, but I am not in favor of sending American boys over there to take part in their conflict. Adopting the Bolshevik government is their affair but when it comes to adopting one here that is our business. We will fight the idea to a finish here at home and no one will have more of a part in that conflict than the farmer."

"This reminds me that we have not paid enough attention to the farmer in the past, but he is coming into his own these days as we recognize that the big question staring us in the face is that of three square meals a day. We need farmers in the land bank management and in the control of the lakes to the ocean canal project for their interests are involved and many of them are capable business men. I am not a candidate for office and so cannot be accused of talking politics in these references to the farmer."

"One of the great problems of city life today is housing and figures show that there is a shortage of one million homes today, that is the right kind of sanitary houses. Home owning is one of the best cures for bolshevism and the quicker we recognize that fact the better it will be."

"We have had in these past few months demonstration of efforts to buy the presidency of the United States and I believe the revelations made will be helpful to the country. I say in passing that personal blame does not attach to Gov. Lowden in this state or too General Wood. The mistakes made were on the part of their friends who possibly turned back when Julianus became the head of the Roman empire by the payment of two and a half million dollars."

Compliments for Bryan

"Prohibition has come to stay and so long as men stand ready to fight for their convictions the saloon and its baleful influence will never be known again in this country. All honor to W. J. Bryan who went to San Francisco and made a fight for principle. It means something to fight the liquor interest within the Democratic party. I want to say here in the earlier home of Bryan that I hold him in high regard. Once I went to him with a question over which I was troubled and he said to me when I am bothered over any question of the kind I pray about it. Then when the light comes I go ahead regardless of what may seem to be the consequences to myself. The country needs such men."

"One of the greatest needs of the day is the application of individual thrift measures to governmental affairs. In congress in the past the man who captured the most appropriations for his home district has had the greatest honors at home whether or not those appropriations were justified by the facts. The erection of public buildings need not be the development of waterways that do not exist, and projects of like character result because the home people give encouragement to the congressmen or senators who make them possible. The free seed program belongs in the same class. Economy in governmental affairs at Washington demands attention. For months past we have clerks, clerks, clerks on every hand and that same development of waterways and the payrolls has dominated every department."

"While today we are possessed with the idea of Americanizing Europe the fact is that we should be the more concerned about Americanizing our own country. In the steel inquiry it developed that in one group of 150 strikers there are 19,000 foreigners. Census figures show that there are eight and a half million people in the United States who cannot read or write English. Orders posted for employees of the steel corporation in some localities must be printed in twelve different languages. The day must come when we must have a common language in this country so that there may be a greater solidarity of thought and a better understanding of the meaning of America. We have not taught all the people what America means and that is our duty."

"In Flanders field, the lads of all nationalities and creeds lie together because they fought in union for an ideal. Why is it that we cannot get back some of that pre-war spirit of working together, that knowledge that our interests are mutual. No sooner was the war over than there came the steel strike and the threats of a coal strike and a railroad tieup together with countless disturbances of a smaller kind among workers. Where is this strike business going to end. What if the farmers who produce the things we eat should go on a strike, then the public would really have something to concern itself about."

"Today one of our big problems is to work out an industrial system which will give justice to the worker and to the public. I believe in unions and the right of collective bargaining but I am just as firm a believer in the open shop and the right of every man to work whether or not he belongs to a union."

"The Wilson Administration. My wife was a democrat and my arguments failed during 25 years to make her a Republican. Now she says that the Wilson administration has done the job. I love my party but far above it my country and on any occasion when I did not think my party right I have not voted with it. The great question of today, the greatest since the Civil war is whether the American nation reserves to itself the right to control its own policies or surrender that right to an overseas council of nine persons."

"Some people believe that President Wilson is always wrong but I have in a great many ways the highest regard for him. He is great in many ways and went abroad in pursuance of a high ideal for which he has nearly given his life. The president, however, assumed to do the thinking for the senate and there are people in Washington who were satisfied to go each morning to the White House steps and pray, 'Give us this day our daily thoughts.' I beg of you women who have just won enfranchisement, do not let someone else do your thinking for you."

"The passion for peace exists with us all. In the war time I stood near a trench in France and heard the roar of artillery and knew that the battle line extended for a distance of 500 miles. I could not but cry 'Oh God where art thou,' and yet I did not lose my faith and believe there was some good purpose behind all the struggle. I am not a pacifist."

The League Plan Dangers.

"I wanted to be for the league of nations. But a study of the plan proposed that it would make for wars instead of ending them. I could not support the plan which made a super-government in Europe and placed in the hands of nine men the destinies of the world. Certain reservations were proposed by the senate, but President Wilson said the league plan must go thru without a change. ## RAPID HARVESTING.

A well known gentleman who was in the city yesterday said he saw a fine combination of harvester and thresher at work. The harvester was a fourteen foot header drawn by a Rumley engine. Over the header was a gasoline engine which propelled the thresher and in addition a disc was drawn behind so that the land was reaped, grain threshed and the field left ready for seeding again. The machine would cut about forty acres a day and the gentleman insisted it was economical in that very little grain failed to be secured. Of course the wheat would all have to be standing up straight for such a purpose and where this work was done the straw is not as long as it is in this country. It certainly was doing up the work in a rapid manner.
